Lack of mutual consent is the crucial factor in any sexual assault. A person's lack of verbal or physical resistance or submission resulting from the use or threat of force does not constitute consent. Consent is not given by a person's manner of dress or past sexual activity. A person's consent to engage in sexual activity with one person does not constitute consent to engage in sexual activity with another. Consent cannot be given if a person is unable to understand the nature of the activity or give knowing consent. Consent cannot be given if a person's ability to resist or consent is substantially impaired because of a mental or physical condition, if there is a significant age or perceived power differential, or due to the circumstances. Examples include, but are not limited to, being:

- Asleep or unconscious,
- Underage,
- Frightened,
- Physically or psychologically pressured or forced,
- Intimidated,
- Substantially impaired because of a psychological health condition,
- Substantially impaired because of voluntary intoxication,
- Substantially impaired because of the deceptive administering of any drug, intoxicant, or controlled substance
- Incapacitated due to the use or influence of alcohol or drugs, or
- Incapacitated due to a mental disability.

Risk reduction includes strategies designed to promote safety and decrease incidents of sexual violence and bystander inaction. Students and employees are provided with suggestions that may help them reduce their risk if they find themselves in a potentially dangerous situation, including:

- Know your resources.
 - o Determine whom you should contact and where you should go if you or a friend needs help.
 - o Notice where emergency phones are located and program the Security Operations Center (SOC) number, (866) 992-3301, into your cell phone.

Stay alert and aware of your surroundings. Avoid putting headphones in both ears or looking down to focus on your cell phone, especially when walking alone.

Be careful about posting your location on social media.

Make others earn your trust and make your limits known ahead of time.

Consider back-up plans. Think about what you would need to do in various difficult situations such as if your phone dies, if your car runs out of gas, or if you become stranded without any

Try to remove yourself from the physical presence of an aggressor. Be as direct as possible about wanting to leave the environment.

Locate someone nearby and ask them for help.

Attend events with friends you trust. Watch out for your friends and ask that they watch out for you. Show up together and leave together. If plans change, discuss with the group. Do not leave a friend stranded in an unfamiliar or unsafe situation.

2022: 0 unfounded crimes.

2021: 0 unfounded crimes.
